

Karen Fuhr: Moving in the wrong direction
February 19, 2010

As a health care worker, I believe we should be offered more than what the government is giving us.

We work hard for what we get and now the government wants to take more of this away. I think this is a disgrace. We are going backwards instead of ahead. This has been going on for nearly two years. I think it's time to come up with a fair collective agreement and we will all be happy.
