

Linda Renkas: Never felt so undervalued
February 19, 2010

I am appalled that SAHO has not come to the table to bargain. They are simply puppets to Brad Wall.

The premier has no intention of giving health care workers even a cost of living increase. We have a government that is totally anti-union and are only interested in privatizing the whole province.

I have been a CUPE worker for 22 years and have never felt so undervalued as my workload continues to increase.

I stand behind the bargaining committee and will wait until we get rid of the Brad Wall government before I accept a collective agreement that they propose.
