

Mary Ann Haberman: Employer's actions reprehensible
February 19, 2010

As a health care worker for over 30 years, I have never been so insulted in my career. Not only are we being treated like second class citizens of Saskatchewan, we are being treated as the lowest class of employees by our employer.

We are expected to work longer hours and short staffed with no respect for our families or our community. They want us to go back to the dark ages where everything was imposed on employees with no regard for their health or welfare. We are just expected to give up everything we have worked so hard for, for so many years, so they can have total control of our working conditions and our lives.

To expect us to accept a collective agreement which totally undermines everything we have fought for and enjoy as a CUPE member through lies, coercion and threats is totally reprehensible!
